Jason Ruchaber provides analysis and consultation to health lawyers, health systems, physicians, and other healthcare investors regarding the valuation of healthcare-related business enterprises and intangible assets. His practice is primarily focused on the determination of fair market value to support business transactions and affiliations, intellectual property licensing, and shareholder transactions. Mr. Ruchaber has also been engaged to provide valuation services for strategic consulting, in connection with financial reporting, gift and estate tax, and to serve as an expert witness in commercial litigation and marital dissolution.

Mr. Ruchaber has valued hundreds of entities throughout the United States, including hospitals, surgery centers, physician practices, imaging centers, pathology labs, oncology centers, and home health agencies. A frequent speaker and author on healthcare valuation topics, he was a contributor to the BVR/AHLA Guides to Healthcare Valuation and Healthcare Industry Compensation and Valuation, has been recognized by Becker's Healthcare as one of the 40 leaders under 40 in the ambulatory surgery center (ASC) industry, and is a faculty member of the Healthcare Special Interest Group of the American Society of Appraisers.

Mr. Ruchaber holds the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation and is an Accredited Senior Appraiser (ASA).
